A New York document-review company is expanding into Charlotte with an office at 129 W. Trade St.

DiscoverReady says the office will greatly increase its capacity to provide document-review outsourcing services to lawyers at Fortune 500 companies nationwide.

DiscoverReady Charlotte expects to hire up to 100 full-time, contract and temporary employees by year.

The majority of its local hires will be attorneys working on document-review projects on a contract or temporary basis.

"Charlotte is a great place to do business," says DiscoverReady Chief Executive Jim Wagner. "We are excited about the quality of the people joining our business, and we are pleased to be able to offer our clients an alternative to our existing New York City facilities."

The company focuses exclusively on streamlining the document-review process and reducing discovery costs. The company markets its services to corporate legal departments and law firms.
